WICKERSHAM'S "DAY DREAMS"

Immense Audience Hears
Favorite Lecturer at Chautauqua

Tent Crowded to Overflowing—
Interesting Sessions Held Today.

It is estimated that fully 2500 people crowded the big tent at the Chautauqua grounds last night and heard the lecture on "Day Dreams," delivered by Dr. L. B. Wickersham, always a favorite with a Rushville audience. The lecture was one of the kind that always appeals to the people and when delivered with that charm that Mr. Wickersham gives to the lecture, made more than an impression. Its forceful appeal is bound to do good. For nearly two hours, Dr. Wickersham talked and when he had finished the audience was unwilling to leave. In fact there were very few in the tent who would not have remained for the rest of the night in order to hear Wickersham. The lecture was full of good sound logic, forceful arguments, striking wit, and many philosophical ideas. Dr. Wickersham is a very convincing talker. He has a personal magnetism that wins admirers by the hundreds. During the lecture last night he denounced in no uncertain terms the "mug wumps," and "pug wumps" that exist in so called society, and gave some timely advice on various subjects. There were few in the audience that some of his shafts did not strike. He preached the doctrine that the "day dreamer" is one who succeeds if allowed to follow his inclinations and ideals and he admonished parents not to train their children for any life work other than that for which they are intended. Besides Dr. Wickersham, the Chicago Glee club and Bill Bone, the poet and humorist, entertained the audience last night. The selections by the quartette were especially pleasing. The trombone quartette was encored several times. Mr. Bone was also encored. He has proven a very popular entertainer in Rushville. The crowd in attendance last night was the largest of the week.

This afternoon Dr. Wickersham delivered another lecture to another audience that filled the tent. The Glee club was also on the program this afternoon, as was Mr. Bone.

Tonight, Dr. N. C. Shaeffer, superintendent of the Pennsylvania State schools and president of the National Educational Association, will lecture on the subject, "Does Education Pay." The prelude tonight will be by the glee club.

This morning another large crowd of teachers and their friends were in attendance at the institute, and heard talks by Supt. Shaeffer and Supt. Coffman. All through the institute intense interest has been manifested. Some very helpful talks have been made by Prof. Conner, of Butler College; Prof. Woodward, supervisor of penmanship in the Indianapolis city schools; Dr. Robert J. Aley, professor of mathematics at Indiana University, and others. The musical part of the program at the institute has been greatly enjoyed.

Tomorrow the Ladies Lyceum Quartette, of Chicago, which was so popular here last year, will arrive and the Rushville Concert Band and Dr. L. E. Brown will be on the program.

The ladies' quartette will be here three days. This quartette is one of the best that appears on Chautauqua platforms, and its concerts here will no doubt be greatly enjoyed. Dr. Brown has never appeared here, but he is a born orator and will prove very popular. With splendid stage presence, flashing eyes, graceful gestures and finished speech, Dr. Brown has swayed multitudes with his addresses. He has traveled at home and abroad and knows men and nations. As a patriotic speaker he has few equals. His "Uncle Sam" will easily rank with the best efforts of the platform.

The county teachers' institute which has occupied the forenoon of each day this week will close tomorrow. The program for tomorrow is as follows: 8:45—Opening Exercises. 9:00—Work—Dr. Shaeffer. 9:45—Rest. 9:55—Music. 10:05—Work—Supt. Coffman. 10:50—Rest. 11:00—Music. 11:10—Work—Dr. Shaeffer. 1:00—Music. 1:15—Work—Supt. Coffman. 3:30—Prelude—Chicago Lyceum Lady Quartet. 3:00—Lecture—L. E. Brown. 7:30—Prelude—Band and Ladies. 8:00—Lecture—L. E. Brown.

DEATH OF A PIONEER BUTCHER

Henry Kramer, Formerly of this City, Dies at His Home in Indianapolis

Henry Kramer, a pioneer German resident of Indianapolis, and for a time a resident of Rushville, died yesterday at his home, 432 East Seventeenth street, in that city. He was 77 years old last Friday, and his death was expected all that day as he had been in ill health for a year.

He was born in Hessen Darmstadt, Germany, and went to Indianapolis in 1856. For twenty years he was a butcher on Ft. Wayne avenue, and for fourteen years following that he was in the meat business at Crawfordsville. He is survived by a widow and nine children—Mrs. John Knittle and Mrs. Lizzie Beck, of St. Louis; Henry and Christ Kramer, of Indianapolis; William Kramer, of Detroit; L. A. Kramer, of Waterloo, Ia.; Charles Kramer, of Connersville, and H. A. Kramer and Mrs. Bert Mullin, of this city.

The funeral service will be held at the late residence in Indianapolis Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. The body will be brought to this city on the noon train over the C. H. & D. and taken at once to East Hill cemetery for burial.

Mr. Kramer was well known to Rush county people. He resided in Rushville for five years and won a host of friends, who were deeply grieved to hear of his death. They had steadfastly hoped that he would recover.

KNIGHTSTOWN WOMAN WANTS A DIVORCE

Mrs. Mae T. Clark, of Knightstown, tolerably well known here, has filed suit in the Henry circuit court for divorce from William Clark. The complaint sets forth many assaults, cursing and much abuse which have been heaped upon her even since two weeks after she was married in August, 1894. The last assault was perpetrated on August 5th, when she alleges her husband cursed her vilely and wound up by knocking her to the floor and choking her. She asserts that her husband's rage knew no bounds and that after she was rendered unconscious he tore her clothing and left her lying on the floor unconscious.

In ancient Rome men only grow beards as a sign of mourning. In Egypt all went clean shaven, but in Assyria only the slaves and peasants shaved.

EVERYTHING WAS CHANGED

Adam T. Brown Returns
From Trip Over Old
Mail Route

Old Time Friends Gone—Lost
His Way Several Times.

The Shelbyville Morning News today says: "Adam T. Brown, who left this city on Monday for a trip to Blue Ridge, Moscow, Milroy, Richland and Andersonville, a route he carried the mail over more than fifty years ago, returned to this city on Wednesday and departed late in the evening to his home near Greenfield.

Mr. Brown found things very different from the old path he used to follow through all of its windings in the early fifties. "I tell you," he said, "one can scarcely tell how much change I noticed. All the old familiar marks were gone, all of my old friends were dead and even the landscape appeared so changed I would not have recognized it. Although fifty years ago when a boy I traveled over the same route for years, often in my trip this week I had to stop and ask the people which road to take to get to the next town. In that time there were very few roads, well we called them paths, but now I notice fine roads on all sides. In that day there were but few houses and they were far between. This week I noticed some of the finest residences and well kept farms I ever saw.

"Blue Ridge has no postoffice, but I saw where the old building stood and that did my heart good. I stayed in Blue Ridge the first night and the next morning got up early and left for Moscow. Moscow is the same old town that it used to be. It is no larger or no smaller.

"I found Milroy much improved and a regular little city. In a few of these places I found old friends. Andersonville and Richland are the same they always were, with the exception of a slight increase in population.

"On my return I passed through Meltzville, which was not on the map during my trips years ago."

Mr. Brown said he was now happy. He has passed over the route he had been dreaming about for years and years. He says he intends making the same old trip each year now until the Death Angel calls him hence."

PROGRESS OF WORK ON TRACTION LINE

Rail Laying Westward From Connersville Will Begin
Next Monday

Wednesday's Connersville News says: "The middle of August is here and rail-laying in the city is almost completed and the steel gang will begin working westward Monday. Today workmen are making the curve at Sixth and Western. Rails are now all in on Western avenue and on Tenth to a point opposite Dr. John Chitwood's home. The short runs yet to complete on both ends of Sixth street are a matter of but a few hours' work. It is the intention to round up rail and tie-laying in the city this week. Monday work will begin at the west end of Tenth and will continue up hill and through the big cut until all the steel here is exhausted. The remainder of the line may be completed from the west as, with the exception of a few days lost because of the rain, good progress has been made at the Big Williams creek fill."

THIS IS NEWS

Dog Tax Fund Must Pay for Chickens Killed by the Canines.

If your neighbor's dog gets after your chickens and kills or injures any of them, do not become angry, but just keep cool and call upon the township trustee, who will pay you for all the damage done. At least this is the advice of the Marion Chronicle. It says:

"A dog belonging to A. E. Lawrence made a raid upon Humphrey Gaunt's chickens, killing four and injuring a number of others. Mr. Gaunt was familiar with the law that covers just such cases and applied to Trustee McPeely for pay. There was nothing left for the trustee to do but "fork over" and the little sport enjoyed by the canine cost the county just $4. Trustee McPeely notified Mr. Lawrence that unless his dog was kept from disturbing the neighbors the animal would be shot by the police.

PIONEER FAMILIES HOLD REUNION

Large Gathering at the Fair Grounds of the Newhouse and Blacklidge Families

The eleventh annual reunion of the Newhouse and Blacklidge families was held on the fair grounds, Wednesday. About one hundred and seventy-five members of these families were present, and the day was spent mostly in pleasant social intercourse, while the elder members recounted reminiscences of the long ago. Speeches were made by James Newhouse, of Fulton, Ky., and H. J. Blacklidge, of Anderson. The balance of the program consisted of several recitations, singing and music.

One of the features of the gathering was a bountiful basket dinner at noon.

Members of both families present from a distance were: H. J. Blacklidge, O. H. Blacklidge, James Forkner, Mrs. Joseph Dillon, Mrs. Mohler, John Blacklidge and James Blacklidge, all of Anderson, Ind.; Mrs. F. Blacklidge and family, of Kokomo, Ind.; James Newhouse, Fulton, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. Newhouse, of Lawrence, Ind.; Harvey Duncan, Summitville, Ind. The balance of the members were from this county.

The Newhouse and Blacklidge families are among the pioneers of Rush county. The Newhouse families are the descendants of John and Elizabeth Newhouse, who emigrated to Franklin county, Indiana in 1818. Children of these settled in Virginia and then from there moved to Union township, Rush county, in 1821. The original ancestors of the Newhouse families came from the former kingdom (now Prussian province) of Hanover, and the family name was spelled "Neubaus," the same meaning as Newhouse.

The Blacklidge families are of English descent, and are the immediate descendants of "Uncle Jack" Blacklidge, who came to this county from Kentucky and settled in Union township.

HAND BOOK FOR REPUBLICANS

Carl Reddick, Secretary of State Committee Puts
in Good Licks

Organization and Work of the Party are Touched Upon—Information of Value

Rushville people have received copies of the Republican "handbook," the work of Carl W. Reddick, secretary of the Republican State committee. The book has 208 pages, is printed on good paper in good-sized type, and contains, in brief, about all there is to know in a statistical, political way about the State. The contents are divided into five general parts: The first dealing with the Republican organization, which includes the names and addresses of all members of the press bureau, officers of the Republican Editorial Association and the Lincoln League, and a list of the Republican newspapers and editors of the State.

The second part deals with the nation and includes members of the Cabinet, Indiana members of Congress, biographical sketches, their committee assignments; the vote for Congressmen at the last election, all of the congressional nominees at that election, and the roll of the United States Senators from this State.

The third part, dealing with the State, includes a roster of the State officers, showing when their terms expire; candidates for State office, State platform, vote cast at last election of each candidate for State office, vote by counties for presidential elector and Governor, delegate vote of county and plurality of each county.

The fourth part deals with the Legislature; members of the last Legislature, hold-over Senators, districts that will elect this year and the political complexion of the last session.

The fifth part of the handbook contains general political information that could not well be classified. This includes the election law and voting qualifications in the State, population of the State by counties, payment is made on the State debt, list of State benevolent and penal institutions, naturalization and other laws of interest to politicians.

BARN BURNED; LOSS IS $1,800

Frank Craft, Living West of Carthage Suffers a Heavy
Loss—Some Insurance

The large barn of Frank Craft on his farm, west of Carthage, was completely destroyed by fire Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock, with its contents including 1023 bushels of wheat, 400 bushels of oats, 30 tons of hay, and farming implements including two wheat drills almost new. W. O. Ruggles, of this county, owned a half interest in the contents of the barn and carried no insurance, his application for insurance having been refused no later than Tuesday of this week, because he lived in another county. Mr. Craft was insured in the Hancock County Farmers' Mutual Company. Mr. Ruggles does not yet know of his exact loss, as he and his family left Tuesday for Kentucky to visit their old home for a few days.

The fire was discovered by W. O. Overman, who notified Mr. Craft. The origin of the fire is supposed to be spontaneous combustion, although no one knows. The loss will probably reach $1800.

—Mrs. Laura Sterns has returned home to Indianapolis after a visit with her father, B. W. Riley, of North Main street.

A NEW FREEZER

If it Works, a Worse Fate Than Prison Cell Confronts Ice Trust.

And now it's the ice trust that will get it in the neck. It is reported that a process has been discovered in London for manufacturing liquid air at a price that will enable it to be commonly used to cool beverages, which will thereby not be diluted as they are by the use of ice. The air thus liquefied can be sold for $1.25 a gallon. Kept in a vacuum container it will not evaporate in seventeen days.

A few drops only are necessary to refrigerate a high ball. The drops take a pearl shape and dance like animated diamonds. A white mist rises from the glass. Little lumps of white ice form and melt, and in two minutes the drink is ready, deliciously cold.

AGED COUPLE WILL MARRY

Knightstown People, Both Past
70 Years of Age are Licensed to Wed

According to the New Castle Courier "Every once in a while Cupid lands a dart into the very heart of persons, who by their friends and neighbors were thought to be immune from attacks of this kind. Consequently intimate friends and neighbors residing in and about Knightstown will not be surprised to know that Charty James Megee and Mrs. Emma Hunt are about to marry.

Both parties are pretty well along in years, but that cuts no figure. The prospective groom called at the clerk's office at New Castle and his application was issued. His bride will go in a day or two and her affidavit will be taken. The groom was born in Pennsylvania in 1835, while the bride was born one year later in Guilford county, N. C., making them 71 and 70 years of age, respectively. Both parties are well known to people in Rush county.

WITH RURAL CARRIERS TIME IS NO OBJECT

If a Rural Carrier Does His Work in Five or Six Hours Gets
Pay Just the Same

Controller Tracewell, at Washington, by holding that a letter carrier who is present for duty and performs all the duties required of him during any day is entitled to his full pay for that day, has settled a question that has arisen in many of the larger postoffices in the country.

Carrier schedules are so arranged that some of the carriers are able to perform the work required of them in five or six hours. Postmasters were in doubt as to whether a full day's pay should be allowed under such circumstances. The law fixes eight hours as the maximum day's work. The Controller says that making schedules requiring only five and a half hours work is an administrative question with which the Treasury department, which must settle all bills, has nothing to do.

Rural mail carriers, who have been in the service twelve months or more, under the postoffice appropriation bill which went into effect July 1, entitled to fifteen days leave of absence with pay. Many of the Indiana carriers are writing to learn how they shall proceed to obtain this vacation. The rural free delivery department says the arrangement must be made through the postmaster under whom the carriers serve. The government furnishes a substitute after fifteen days, who receives pay at the rate of $600 a year. Carriers are privileged to take the fifteen days at their convenience during the year. They can take the leave all at once or for a week at a time.

MAKES WAR ON KISSING HABIT

State Board of Health Has Issued Set of Rules to be Followed

Indiscriminate Kissing by Children is a Great Way to Spread Disease

Indiscriminate kissing among school children is no longer permissible and head of school departments are being advised by the State board of health to use every effort to put a stop to kissing among school children. It is hoped also that the indiscriminate kissing of women when they meet on the street and other places will be stopped. It has long been considered of bad form, but hundreds of women continue to kiss each other when they meet as a form of greeting. If telephones, etc., spread disease then how much greater must be the danger of this indiscriminate kissing, one sees at every turn.

The secretary of the State board of health of Indiana says that a combined effort must be made to stamp out the "white plague," better known as tuberculosis, more commonly called consumption. It is thought a good place to begin is with the schools where wholesale kissing among the students tends largely toward the spread of this and other contagious diseases.

Kissing on the mouth is particularly objectionable and in a set of "rules for school children" the board speaks specially of the kissing habit. "Do not kiss any one on the mouth or allow any body to do so to you," the rules say. "Do not spit except in a spittoon or on a piece of cloth or a handkerchief used for that purpose alone," the rules further say, "and on your return home have the cloth burned by your mother or the handkerchief put in water until ready for the wash."

The board of health has also issued instructions to housekeepers regarding their sweeping and dusting. "When you sweep a room," the board says, "raise as little dust as possible because this dust, when breathed, irritates the nose and throat and may set up catarrh. Some of the dust breathed in dusty air reaches the lungs, making parts of them black and hard and useless."

PROF. BALDWIN'S FATAL BALOON

Big Bag Reduced to Ashes and
Would-be Aeronauts Badly Burned.

The prophecy of John E. Baldwin, the aeronaut, who was blown to atoms by the explosion of a giant dynamite shell while his balloon was a mile above the earth at Greenville, O., that no other man would make a trip in the big monster of the air has come true. The balloon has been reduced to ashes, and the Martin brothers, who desired to sail through space are now at their home at Economy, nursing their burns and debating the question of whether or not, after all, the farm is the best place for them.

The brothers, arrayed in red tights and flowing sashes, appeared before their friends and neighbors at an old settlers' picnic with the balloon which they had bought from the widow of the air navigator who lost his life. They said they were ready for the trip, and the manner in which they hustled about getting ready convinced the great crowd that they were in earnest. While the balloon was being inflated it caught fire and the Martin brothers were badly burned. The balloon was entirely consumed.

—Miss Nellie Lambert, of Harrisburg, Pa., who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clark, of North Sexton street, left last evening for Anderson to visit relatives.

POSTAL REVISION

How Uncle Sam May Add a Bit to
Other Side of Ledger.

Indianapolis, Ind., August 16.—The special commission appointed some time ago to investigate the reasons for the deficiencies in the postal department and suggest ways to make it self-supporting, may in their report recommend a change in the laws governing the rates at which newspapers and periodicals are mailed. Such is a well-defined rumor that has been included in the gossip that has been floating around the capital. The postal department handles second class mail matter at a cost of $40,000,000 and receives as revenue from this class only $6,000,000. The deficiency for the department as a whole amounts to $14,000,000. Naturally the attention of the special commission has been directed toward the carriage of second class matter since it is here that the greatest loss is met. Country newspapers issued weekly are now carried free of charge in their home counties, while daily newspapers and certain other publications, including magazines and quarterly publications, such as series of books issued regularly, are carried for 1 cent per pound. The country newspapers and the magazines may have to bear their share in making up the deficit which the department faces. It is intimated that the commission has been considering this phase of the problem, and one plan which they have contemplated is that the rates on magazines and daily newspapers be raised to 2 and 3 cents per pound, while the free circulation of the country weeklies will be cut off and they will be asked to pay 1 cent per pound for the privilege of distributing their publications through their home counties as well as outside. Such a plan has been suggested before, but has not met with the approval of the congressmen who have constituents to look after. Should the commission recommend such a measure, however, as it is hinted that they will, it is not unlikely that the proposition would assume a different aspect and might eventually be brought about.

A complicated state of affairs is to be found in the Thirteenth Indiana district, according to stories that have been going the rounds since the visit of some well-known Democratic politicians to Indianapolis a few days since. The Democrats are skirmishing for position on the congressional nominee question. Since the district is rather strongly Republican, the number of men who really want the Democratic nomination is none too large. The men who have occupied a prominent place in the party's affairs are not hankering for the place, and yet others, who are anxious to elect, if possible, a Democrat, feel that some very prominent man should be selected. The name of Benjamin F. Shively has been suggested, and many of his friends have been urging that he be made the nominee. For a good many reasons some of the close friends of Mr. Shively, on the other hand, would rather that he would not be nominated. He has been prominently mentioned as a possible running mate with William Jennings Bryan in 1908, and it is said that the vice presidential bee has hummed a song that has proved seductive to Mr. Shively. He would not in the least object to being made the candidate. Mayor Fogarty of South Bend, a Democratic official in a strongly Republican county and a man in virtual control of the organization in St. Joseph county, with his friends, it is said, have been openly supporting the Shively congressional idea. Mr. Shively and his friends, it is said, would feel much more kindly toward the Fogarty element if they would keep silent and allow things to take their course. Mr. Shively would not reject the nomination were it made, but if he is selected he wants it done without the impetus of a formal boom.

Edgar B. Goodnow has been appointed chief of the bureau of statistics by Joseph H. Stubbs, state statistician. The office of chief was made vacant by the death of David M. Geeting. Mr. Goodnow was chief deputy in the office of the statistician. Miss Mary Stubbs will take Mr. Goodnow's place, her own remaining vacant for the present. Mr. Stubbs says that his report is due in a few days, and it would not be worth while to break in a new deputy before the report is made.

Resented His Uncle's Remarks.
Muncie, Ind., Aug. 16.—Unable longer to stand the insults addressed to his mother, as he says, James Armsten, a boy of seventeen years, threw a stone which struck and fatally injured his uncle, Christopher Slinker, forty-seven years old, when the latter attacked the boy. Seeing what he had done, the lad surrendered to the police. After hearing his story, however, and on his promise not to run away, the police refused to detain him or to file a charge against him.

Protests Are Filed.
Washington, Aug. 16.—Protests against the alleged violation of the eight-hour law and the employment of Chinese coolie labor on Panama canal work have been filed at the isthmian commission by representatives of district assembly No. 66, Knights of Labor.

Veteran Caught on the Track.
Marion, Ind., Aug. 16.—Samuel Parker of Company C, Twelfth Pennsylvania infantry, a veteran of the war of the rebellion and a member of the Marion soldiers' home, was run down by a Pennsylvania freight train and instantly killed. The accident happened in front of the home.

THIRTY KILLED

When a Carload of Dynamite Exploded at Chihuahua.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 16.—Thirty or more Mexican laborers and bystanders were killed at Chihuahua, Mex., by the explosion of a carload of dynamite on the Mexican Central railroad. The car was being transferred for the Robinson mine at Santa Eulalia. Bodies and pieces of human flesh were picked up a mile distant. Windows were broken in almost every home in town and many walls were cracked. Several American foremen are reported killed.

CANTEEN QUESTION

Will Engage the Attention of the Grand Army of the Republic.

A MONUMENT TO WIRZ

Proposition In This Direction Will
Once More Bring Out Serious Opposition of Veterans.

Business Session of the Encampment
Began Today and Will Continue Through Tomorrow.

Minneapolis, Aug. 16.—The business sessions of the G. A. R. encampment began in the Auditorium today and will continue tomorrow. The most important matters to come up for consideration are the abolition of the canteen from soldiers' homes and the proposed erection of a monument to Henry Wirz, by the women of the South.

The first session was held this morning at 10 o'clock and consisted chiefly of the opening exercises. An adjournment was then taken to await the report of the committee on credentials. The reports of the officers were submitted at the afternoon session.

The friends of R. R. Burton of Zanesville, O., claim that he now has the best chance of being elected commander. They assert that he will have the votes of Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania and New York, the four largest delegations. C. G. Burton of Missouri and Captain P. H. Coney of Kansas are still strongly in the fight, however, and both express confidence in the outcome.

For the fortieth time since its work was finished and its glory won, the Grand Army of the Republic was in line yesterday. There have been many parades more gorgeous, many spectacles more dazzling and bewildering, but never has there been in this country one more appealing and impressive. The old soldiers who filled the ranks were made to realize that for the time at least materialism was gone, and the days of the heroes were come again. At times their ears were greeted by cheers that drowned the roar and crash of their many bands; at times they passed through living lanes where tongues were still and heads were bared in reverence for what they had suffered and wrought.

The parade was a notable affair, well-handled, and inspiring to look upon. It was a day of pride for the old soldiers in themselves, and for the multitudes in the soldiers. Every precaution that could make the parade a success for the veterans and the spectators was taken by the authorities. The line of march, two miles in length, was wired off, nobody being able to obstruct the column for an instant.

Charged With Peonage.

Columbus, Ga., Aug. 16.—United States Commissioner Brown has held A. Q. Campbell, A. Bradshaw and W. C. Matthews under bonds of $1,000 each on the charge of peonage. The men are superintendent, foreman and commissary respectively of the Atlanta-Birmingham Construction company, contractors for the Atlantic & Birmingham railroad. The charge was preferred by A. J. Herit, special agent of the United States. Complaint was made by a number of laborers who were brought from New York some time ago, alleging that they were unlawfully detained by threats and abuse.

Printers Indorse Assessment.

Colorado Springs, Col., Aug. 16.—By a unanimous vote the delegates to the International Typographical Union convention adopted a resolution expressing full confidence in the officers and executive council, congratulating them upon "the wisdom and prudent foresight shown in the conduct of the contest for an eight-hour day," and especially endorsing the action in the levy of the 10 per cent strike assessment. Indianapolis and Hot Springs are in the race for the 1907 convention.

Negro Surrounded in Swamp.

Greenville, S. C., Aug. 16.—A mob has surrounded Bob Davis, the negro who assaulted Miss Brooks at Greenwood Tuesday, and it is hourly expected that the negro will be lynched. Sheriff McCaslin is with the party, but it is feared he will not be able to prevent a lynching.

Eighty Thousand Workmen Parade.

Brussels, Aug. 16.—There was an immense demonstration of workmen here in favor of the reduction of the working hours. It is estimated that from 60,000 to 80,000 men participated in the procession, which with a hundred bands marched through the principal streets.

Wellman Gives It Up.

Christiania, Aug. 16.—Private letters received here from Spitzbergen state that owing to the lateness of the season Walter Wellman, the chief of the Chicago Record-Herald Arctic expedition, has abandoned the project of ballooning to the North Pole this year.

A Call to the Powers.

Sofia, Aug. 16.—Unless the powers speedily step in to correct the existing condition of affairs in Macedonia, a serious crisis may be precipitated.

PRICES OF LUMBER

Not Affected in Indiana by Tariff Says
One Who Has Investigated.

Our Democratic exchanges complain about tariff on lumber, and add that the price of lumber is so high the poor man can scarcely build a home.

A well known Indiana citizen recently in Canada looked into the lumber question carefully and his observations are most interesting.

"I supposed," said he, "that with the tariff reduced on lumber, Canada could help supply our demand and prices would range lower in the middle west. I was surprised to find that lumber is as high or higher in price in southern and eastern Canada as it is in Indiana. In fact, instead of being able to ship us lumber at lower prices, were the tariff reduced, I found to my amazement that they send down to the states and buy much of the lumber that enters into their building. They get the Georgia pine and other lumber from the south, from the same markets that supply us, and bring it around the coast by boat, and find that cheaper than to ship overland the timber from their northwest. In talking with lumber dealers and mill men I learned as a fact beyond question, and to my amazement, that, with the tariff wiped out completely, Canada would have no lumber that could be sold in Indiana in competition with present prices. Lumber is high because it is getting scarce and not because of the tariff."

Report on Banks of State Show Indiana is Enjoying the Real Kind.

The total resources of all the banks and trust companies in Indiana increased from $268,278,172.07 on the last day of April, 1905, to $301,936,662.12 on the last day of April, 1906. The number of such institutions increased from 683 in 1905 to 702 in 1906. These figures have just been given out by Joseph H. Stubbs, state statistician, from sworn statements sent to his office by all the banks and trust companies. There are now in Indiana 204 national banks, 198 state banks, 228 private banks and seventy-two trust companies and savings banks. The total taxes paid by them in 1905 was $762,969.09, against $814,819.69 in 1906. The number of depositors increased during the year from 540,112 to 630,903. The total deposits increased from $201,624.32 in 1905 to $224,576,256.02 in 1906.

Things to be Remembered.

Remember 1893-1896 and the wives and children wanting clothes.

Remember 1893-1896 and the thousands of capable mechanics looking in vain for work.

Remember 1893-1896 and the fulfilled promises made by the Republican party in the campaign of 1896.

Remember 1893-1896 and the delusive promises made by the Democratic party in the campaign of 1892.

Remember 1893-1896, when the factory whistle failed to blow for another day's work, another day's pay.

Remember 1893-1896 and the landlord waiting at the door for the rent money, which could not be provided.

Remember 1893-1896 and the countless number of women and children waiting, faint with hunger, for the bread which never came.

Remember 1893-1896 and the heart-sickness, the worry, the unpaid and unpayable debts, and all the many ills that attend the man out of work.

Remember 1893-1896 and the hundreds of thousands of laborers walking the streets from sunrise to sunset looking for the work which could not be found.

Remember 1893-1896 and the un-American soup houses and other forms of charity necessary to relieve those who need no relief when they can get work.

Campaign Issues.

Secretary Dover, of the National Republican Committee was recently asked what, in his opinion, would be the campaign issues this year.

"President Roosevelt and the record of his administration," Secretary Dover answered promptly and emphatically. "I do not understand why there should be any disagreement on that point. To my mind the contest hinges upon the question whether or not the country should or should not indorse Roosevelt and his policies. Everybody knows what those policies are, or should know. It seems the situation naturally makes him the real, predominating issue of the campaign. I can not see it any other way. If the country approves the course of the administration and of congress in following the president's lead it will reelect a Republican house; if it disapproves, the Democrats will control. I do not profess to be a prophet, but I expect the president will be heartily indorsed at the polls."

The People vs. Bryan.

(Martinsville Republican.)

W. J. Bryan and his policies were turned down in the campaigns of 1896 and 1900. They were turned down by the Democratic national convention in 1904. Mr. Bryan states that he is as radical now as he was in 1896 and 1900. The American people have been happy that they did not indorse his policies in the two campaigns in which they were advocated. The people have not changed their judgment upon those propositions. Then where do Bryan's prospects for the presidency come in?

THE ANNUAL INSPECTION

Governor and His Staff Arrive at Ft.
Benj. Harrison to Review the Indiana National Guard.

General Carter and His Staff Made a Formal Call on the Chief Executive of the S. at.

Indianapolis, Aug. 16.—Governor Hanly went in full panoply of war to Fort Benjamin Harrison today. Accompanied by his staff, he arrived at the army post at 11 o'clock. There he was met by an escort of cavalry and proceeded to his quarters in the Indiana section of the camp. Immediately on his arrival the artillery fired a salute of twenty-one guns, a major general's salute. After the governor was comfortably situated in quarters, General Carter and his staff called on the chief executive of the state. Between 3 and 4 o'clock this afternoon Governor Hanly will review the troops now stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison, both regulars and volunteers.

CLOUDBURST AT EVANSVILLE

Streets Were Flooded and $100,000
Damage Is Reported.

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 16.—It is estimated that the storm that visited Evansville and southern Indiana caused a loss of property of nearly $100,000. The rain amounted to almost a cloudburst in this city, and for more than two hours the streetcar service was stopped, the water filling the cellar of the power plant of the company in Water street and putting out the fires under the boilers. The telephone service was badly crippled and several hundred phones were out of use for hours.

In many of the streets of the city the water stood two feet deep. In the lower part of the city hundreds of cellars were flooded. Every fire engine in the city was kept busy pumping out cellars.

At the corner of lower Second and Walker streets in the neighborhood of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, three houses occupied by four families and owned by Charles Tharling, were partly wrecked. The water filled the cellars and the floors sank and twenty-five people were thrown into water about ten feet deep. Their cries for help brought a large rescuing party and the people were taken out in safety.

The water filled the cellars of many of the factories and put out the fires in the boilers, and several of them were forced to suspend operations. The rainfall in one hour was over two inches. Shade trees all over the city were blown down, and numerous out-buildings were wrecked. Lightning struck the building of the Evansville Courier, in Main street, between First and Second streets, and part of the roof was torn off. The building was filled with people, and in the third floor, which is used as a business college, about fifty girls and boys were in their seats, and a panic ensued, but no one was injured. Many trees were ruined by the lightning.

Reports from towns near Evansville say the storm was severe and not a little damage was done. Creeks are swollen and many bridges were injured by the high water. The railroads had many washouts along their lines.

Sheriff Pursued Thieves.

South Bend, Ind., August 16.—The Wabash railway station at Lakeville, this county, was entered by burglars. The safe was forced by nitroglycerin and $45 was taken. Sheriff Schaffer and deputies from this city hurried to the scene in automobiles, but were unable to get trace of the robbers. This is the third safe blowing in this section of the state within the last few days. The authorities believe that an organized gang is at work.

Thought He Was "Fooling."

Logansport, Ind., Aug. 16.—Anthony Alber, thirty-four years old, car repairer at the Panhandle shop, committed suicide by swallowing morphine, following a course of dissipation. The poison was swallowed while in a saloon, and Alber boasted of his purpose to die game, to which no attention was paid till his condition became hopeless. He was a man of family.

He Took a Dangerous Chance.

Noblesville, Ind., Aug. 16.—George Shupard, aged thirty-two, a section hand on the Indianapolis Northern traction line, was struck by a south-bound limited car and killed. The accident was the result of his own carelessness. He saw the car approaching, but continued tamping gravel after his fellow workers had left the track.

Dietz Reported Slain.

Rice Lake, Wis., Aug. 16.—It is reported here that John Dietz, the woodsman who has resisted arrest for several months on a charge of shooting a deputy sheriff, was shot and killed near his farm at Cameron Dam. The report cannot be confirmed.

Ashworth's Drug Store. The Busy One.

It is just as easy for one firm in business as for another to "talk," but when it comes to "making good" that's different. It takes knowing how, money and a good name to get the best lines of goods into a store. It is a mistake to think that any merchant can buy any lines of goods he wants to buy. The makers of the best goods hunt for the best store in a town to handle their lines, and when a manufacturer has once placed his line in a store there it stays, this is where the knowing how comes in; then bills must be paid, that takes money; then the store must give its patrons a square deal—good stuff for their money—that begets a good name. The store that has these three things—knowing how, money and a good name—becomes the whirlpool into which the best lines of goods made drop and stay. Look at the lines that have dropped into our "whirlpool."
